ENGLISH BEAM DINING TABLE

Dining Tables

Epic natural beauty, created with aged reclaimed timber. The English Beam dining table is made using old wood up to a century-old, salvaged from the structural beams and pillar joists of buildings across the UK. The arduous process of reclamation starts at a demolition site, where precious sections are recovered. The timbers are sorted and de-nailed by hand, all the while preserving the natural surface, revived to once again support new lifestyles.
