ODEON TABLE LAMP

Table & Desk Lamps

The Odeon table lamp is a modern day interpretation of Venetian glass prism lights from the 1960s. These glamorous handcrafted mid-century modern lights are inspired by one of the greatest Roman architectural feats: the infamous elliptical Coliseum Amphitheatre. The fixtures have superior light dispersion capabilities due to the high grade optical-quality glass and generous quantity of crystals drops. These opulent crystals are daringly contrasted with natural unfinished iron, pitting the raw masculinity of the finish which bears the marks of the welder's torch against the dazzling femininity of the crystal. Not available in the US.
